MAGIC MOVERS SCHEDULES THREE UM PERFORMANCES

MISSOULA--

The Magic Movers, a professional creative movement/creative dramatics company affiliated with the Department of Drama/Dance, School of Fine Arts, the University of Montana, will offer three participational performances for parents and children on Feb. 22 and 23 in the UM Women's Center Gym.

"Ashanti, African Tales," choreographed by Karen Kaufmann, company manager, will be presented on Friday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. "Small Duck and Other Navaho Tales," choreographed by Nancy Brooks Schmitz, will be offered on Saturday, Feb. 23, at 12:30 p.m. followed by "Machine Language," also choreographed by Schmitz, at 2:00 p.m.

The dancer/actors in the company are Kaufmann, Laurie Rollins, David Stinson and Bill Scott.

Magic Movers specializes in participational performances for children of ages 2-14 and family audiences. Founded in 1977 by Schmitz, the company's artistic director, Magic Movers has performed for approximately 10,000 children, teachers and parents throughout Montana. This season during their 12-week tour, Magic Movers will give workshops and performances in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

Advance tickets for the Magic Mover performances will be available at the University Theatre Box Office and at the door on the day of the performance.
